DESCRIPTION

The RESTAC groin protector gives extra protection for the lower abdomen and groin areas.

The protector is constructed from double-layered Foxdura 500 PU IRR fabric.

Laser cut MOLLE-system on top for pouches, first aid kits etc.

The protector attaches to a built-in Velcro® strip inside the lower front part of the vest.

When not in use, the protector can be stored inside the vest.

Inquiries related to product features should be directed directly to the manufacturer at info@sioenballistics.fi.

The products are not displayed in our factory showroom, and they are only available through our online store.
